

Paris, April 17th 2024 – The 7th Citadel returns to Kickstarter on June 4th!

The 7th Citadel, the cooperative card-based exploration board game by French publisher Serious Poulp, is returning to Kickstarter on June 4th 2024.

After an extremely successful initial campaign in 2020, which attracted more than 33,000 backers and raised over 3,5 million dollars, Serious Poulp is bringing the game back to Kickstarter this June, offering lots of new, exclusive content, including an entire new adventure to play through.

The upcoming crowdfunding campaign for The 7th Citadel will be Serious Poulp's first project under a fresh partnership with Kickstarter, the go-to crowdfunding platform for creative projects. As part of the partnership, all Serious Poulp projects from now through 2026 will launch exclusively on Kickstarter.

"Kickstarter has revolutionized the board game industry by allowing indie publishers like us to create huge, ambitious games like The 7th Citadel, which simply couldn't be done without crowdfunding." said Bruno Sautter, CEO of Serious Poulp and one of the game's designers. "Their team has our full confidence, and we look forward to working with them".

Serious Poulp completed delivery to all backers of the original campaign in March, and the initial response to the game has been overwhelmingly positive, with glowing reviews, lots of community engagement, and a score of 8.8/10 on BoardGameGeek.com.

The 7th Citadel uses the same choose-your-own-adventure-style system as its predecessor, the critically acclaimed 7th Continent, which had a record-breaking crowdfunding campaign in 2017. Players gradually build the game board by placing numbered terrain and event cards as they explore the world around them, with complete freedom to progress as they see fit: resolving encounters, discovering secrets and advancing each scenario's storyline.

However, The 7th Citadel differentiates itself from its predecessor by bringing lots of new elements to the table. First of all, it has its own original universe to explore: The 7th Citadel's story takes place in a post-apocalyptic medieval world called "The Collapsing Lands". Players will step into a dark world filled with mysterious Necrodroids, monstrous plants, and the even more dangerous Burrowers, in a fight for survival spanning multiple adventures called Threats. In terms of mechanics, The 7th Citadel offers exciting new additions such as an evolving world map, customizable Action decks, the possibility for players to develop their own Citadel between scenarios, and much more.

The "Return to the 7th Citadel" Kickstarter campaign will launch on Tuesday, June 4th.
